Good afternoon

Thank you for the information. We would like to add to our original written statement that extra housing development in the area of Willingdon and Polegate will add to the already over stretched resources in these areas particularly traffic problems, access to doctors and dentists in the areas and the local hospital in Eastbourne cannot cope now with the population increase. Schools are struggling and of course the water resources are dwindling.

In summary, there is no way that more houses can be assimilated in to these "village" communities.

Thank you

Christine and James Macey
