Dear Mr Carvey

I am writing to add my voice of protest at the proposed building of another 1000 houses in Uckfield. The demand on services is already strained and further developments will only add to diminishing the quality of life to current Uckfield residents. There have been agreed a number of housing developments that are still in the process of being built, such as the houses along the Eastbourne Road and the field by Uckfield Eye Community Hospital, and the sandpits along the Eastbourne Road.

I think it would be a sensible idea to assess the impact on services of the currently agreed developments before agreeing to further developments.

Best wishes
Jill Stocks
