04/05/2012 21:20
Gill Chapple
Re: housing in Hindsland/Morning Mills farm

In response to the article featured in Feedback for Willingdon and Polegate. What does "around" mean? A child would say "come around to my house". It is certainly not a word to be used in an official document. Please use the Queen's English and be precise. The word around is far too ambiguous. i agree that the document should read "a maximum of 700 houses. Have we the assurance that the extra facilities to provide for these extra residents will be in place before the properties are built?
G Chapple