YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

I strongly object to this appeal. The construction proposed will destroy the woodland nearby, killing already rare species of bats and dormice as well as destroying the habitat of other animals and birds, already under pressure from the high amount of new homes built in this area. The population of frogs, newts and other precious life has declined immensely. Also, there is not sufficient infrastructure for an influx of people, such as schools, leisure facilities and, as is shown already, the water companies cannot cope with the population numbers in the South East as it is. The new builds do not provide homes for local people as the prices are too high. If anything, more social housing is required so people can afford a home.
